

Planned 2012 ambient-electronic album by composer Julius Dobos

December 5, 2011
Creative Shop Music™
Press contact: Ms. Tatsiana Niaronava

For Immediate Release

Dallas, Texas / Budapest, Hungary — Creative Shop Music has announced a planned 2012 release of a brand new concept work by composer Julius Dobos. The large-scale work in ambient / electronic style will encompass multiple album releases.

The composition and sound design process started in 2009 and has been the main focus of Dobos since. The work is expected to express Dobos' not yet publicized philosophy about the relationship of Nature, Life, the Universe and music, touching on such intriguing subjects as the existence and relativity of space and time – expressed in music and sound.

The first release in the series, while electronic in nature, will build on an organic feel and warm textures. The ambient yet rhythmic music will feature lush soundscapes, complex, out-of-this-world sounds, haunting melodies, powerful emotions, grandiose instrumentation and seven unique sonic landscapes. No further details or samples have been released, and the title of the work has not been announced either.

For interviews, promotional copies of the album and the music video, please contact:

Ms. Tatsiana Niaronava
The Creative Shop
Creative Shop Music
tatsiana@thecreativeshop.com

Additional information available at:

juliusdobos.com
youtube.com/juliusdobos

The permalink of this press release is:

http://www.thecreativeshop.com/press_releases_jd/2012_ambient_electronic_release.pdf